SERENADE TO A SOUL SISTER

LILLIAN CAMPBELL MISS A&T

Mrs. Barbara Burgess

Mr. Benny Mayfield

Mr. Clyde DeHughley

DEDICATION

We cannot help but extol those who have served as our inspiration, instilling in us the desire to penetrate deeper into broader channels, making our presence known to the outer world. Words and space alone can never adequately transmit the deep appreciation, we feel for the qualitative services of Mrs. Barbara Burgess, Mr. Benny Mayfield, and Mr. Clyde DeHughley.

Therefore, in grateful recognition for their time, talent and unwanted guidance, we extend our sincere appreciation as we dedicate this edition of the "AYANTEE" to Mrs. Barbara Burgess, Mr. Benny Mayfield and Mr. Clyde DeHughley.

Students have united from all departments of A & T to participate in this choir. They sing music from Europe, Africa, and South and North America; but the choir has continually concentrated on the message of becoming aware of the joys, sorrows and hopes expressed by the Black people of America. Top soloists for this group are Annette Kitchen (soprano), Carolyn Mosely (mezzo soprano), James D. Weston (tenor), Audrey Harris (tenor), and Maurice Scott (bass). Concerts for the A & T are held at Easter and Christmas time before the students are allowed home for the holidays.

MISS A & T

Lillian Campbell is young, gifted and Black. She is a senior English major from Charlotte, N.C., who entered A & T in 1966 as a presidential scholar. She is a member of Angel Flight, Delta Sigma Theta and served as queen of the 605th Squadron 1967-68.

Never before has the University been represented by a fine young woman of high ideals for which Miss A & T stands.

Riding on her float Miss A & T makes her first appearance to the Homecoming festivities.

Sonnet To A Soul Sister

by
Leander Forbes

I'm in love – yes, I'm in love with every black woman I see
And the hands that have rocked the cradle will now shape all history.

For too long now she has been suffering, in the fields and kitchen heat,
Just to have clothes on her children's back and have food for them to eat.

They raped her body and her mind in the brothel and on the street,
Then placed a white woman in the black man's mind against which she did compete.

She tried to imitate this blue-eyed blond, true symbol of white bigotry,
But the realization of a proud heritage brought about her identity.

You've been tortured oh, my darling, forced to live in dark despair,
They made you to bleach your ebony skin and "fry" your natural hair.

She walks with grace known only to queens and her equals are but few,
And the thrill of her lips when they touch my lips are soft like the morning dew.

True beauty is only skin deep with a lot unseen inside,
But the inner glow of her undying love is the source of the black man's pride.

So now my sweet love, defile not yourself with the vanities of this land
And may the fruit of your precious womb ripen into a MAN.

Lillian Campbell, as Miss A & T, represented A & T at Morgan State's Homecoming.

Radiant is truly the word for the four girls who represent the class queens for the year 1969-70. Miss Jeanette Simpson native of Columbus, Georgia is the only new edition to the regal beauties. She found herself in the chair of Miss Freshman in October. Black is beautiful, exemplifies her flawless features.

Miss Senior, Benittia Douglas, gazes at the horizon and sees optimism for A & T. She hails from Fayetteville, North Carolina, and majors in Office Administration. She truly represents the tradition of beautiful Black queens on our campus.

Cynthia Congelton, Miss Junior, views her junior year as her banner year. The title of Miss Junior has afforded her a closer attachment to her fellow classmates. Miss Congleton has truly been a picture of Blackness during her reign.

Barbara Williams, a native of Wallace, North Carolina, reflects black over her reigning year as Miss Sophomore. She has found that not only does she need poise, personality, and charm, but must be aware of her role as a black woman.

THE ALVIN AILEY DANCE THEATRE

Miquel Godreau, a man whose exuberance and muscle control surpassed that of an acrobat, held the audience spellbound from beginning to end with a choreographical dance known as "Incars." Two other dancers, Linda Kent and Bobby Johnson, added an intensifying ballet — "Poem". "Luckie", "Stoned Soul Picnic" and "Poverty Train" were songs done by a quintet of dances that combined sorrow with laughter on and off stage. The final and more soulful act of the company related to the American Negro from Revolutionary War times until the present.

Seth McCoy, a former student of A & T, returned to give the students the worth of his singing. Music is one of the main centers of this campus and Mr. McCoy proved it with his rich tenor voice.

From the opera centers of the west to the land of the east . . .

Harambee Singers brought the style, rhythm, and language of Africa . . .

and the beauty of being Black.

Dino, Howard, Al and Jerome are the Opels.

The Delfonics were here on two occasions. The second occasion brought a group who formed two weeks before the performance and matched many veterans in the music business. Each, coming from different singing groups, combined together to be known to the students as the Opels.

The Versatile Gents made an appearance that same night to tell the story of an African princess called Nya, in the song 'You blow my mind.' With them came Miss Veronica Feaster to sing a couple of songs on her own and with the Gents.

The Majors are an instrumental group composed of A & T students. Most, if not all, major in music and are known widely on the East coast. They have been featured on shows with other performers, such as the Delfonics, Gladys Knight and the Pips and Sly and the Family Stone. Truly, they are an artistic group.

The Last Poets are what they call themselves. They came from Shaw University to stay on campus for a few days and recite poetry for students in the Memorial Union. Militant and aggressive, these men told it like it is, was and will be for Black people.

Their names are Randy Cane, Wilbur Hart and William Hart and they are the Delfonics.

Cool, calm and soulful are the words for these gentlemen. The quiet moves and the pain, when they cry out say, "Didn't I blow your mind this time; didn't I?"

The Delfonics — taking a break.

The Homecoming weekend brought alumni, friends and enemies, from all parts of the country, to A & T. Charles Moore gymnasium became the center of activities with the coronation, Pre-Dawn and post-game dances.

The Appreciations were here for the Pre-Dawn Dance only to make the lively festivities livelier.

NINA SIMONE . . .

She is the woman who wants no funny business. Her music is to the heart and straight to the point as when she tells us about being 'young, gifted, and black.'

'Stevie's makin' love to your ol' lady while she was at the Stevie Wonder show.'

He rapped on his harmonica with 'Alfie' . . .

charmed the ladies with 'Ma Cherie Amour' . . .

and whomped on his electric organ only to leave the audience begging for more.

It can't be that good, can it?

You mean, Uncle Sam wants me?

Very interesting.

It's simple. All you have to do is walk and pray that your pants don't fall down.

Think, girl. THINK!

"How little I have gained,
How vast the unattained."

— Whittier

SPOT

Archie Ford still acts like a freshman.

Underclass women still like to style.

We can still laugh at small things.

Some Juniors don't know how to act when first admitted to Brown Hall.

Boosting the Aggies to Victory

SHOTS

Underclassmen can still enjoy snowball fights.

Enthusiasm is the word for these three freshmen.

Man, this is the life!!!

'I don't know where the Union is.'

This is the 'Bold Cold One.'

Defensive Team

Co-Captain
All American Merl Code

Head coach, Hornsby Howell and assistant William Jeffries

Any body can get up and say he's a coach . . . but it takes a real man to be a coach. Here are the 'brains' and the men behind the fightin "Aggies".

BASKETBALL

Up and down the court . . . Wind Sprints . . . Water! Water! . . . No more wine, I promise coach . . . Sore muscles . . . winning . . . CIAA time . . . beautiful Black women . . . out of sight team.

KARATE

Chop-Chop

L. Calvin McSwain, Instructor

Calvin McSwain heads the lineup of this deadly and surprisingly beautiful art.

Self-defense is the name of the game which calls for the control of the mind as well as the body. Started in 1965, this team has grown in recognition on campus and other schools.

I'll show you but you must go from there . on your own . . with deadly hands quicker than the eye . . . observe . . . watch the after shave . . . ha!!! . . . the Far East never had it so good

RIFLE TEAM

They use .22 long rifles and position themselves standing, sitting, kneeling or prone . . .

reload on the firing line . . .

Sgt. W. Willis, Jr. – Coach

Because of the individuality of the sport and its closed quarters, the rifle team is not a well patronized sport; but here are some students who find marksmanship interesting.

Distance 50 feet or more . . .

girls allowed.

BASEBALL

Pitcher, Wilson Stalsworth

Coach, Melvin Groomes

Outfielder, Johnny Thompson

REMINISCING

A&T, had a very good sport's year . . . Football team lived up to expectations, Merl Coole makes all-American team for his excellent defensive play on the football team . . . We have a fine spirited pep band to cheer us on . . . and our basketball team was also good but it had its ups and downs . . . We now lay our pen to rest and hope that the Aggies can do as good or better next year . . . Amen!!!

Well this is it! The edition that reflects a tiring but rewarding year. It should be used as a mirror, as you perceive your relationship to A & T during the past year.

The compilation of this year's Ayantee was through the efforts of several persons. I feel that they merit a very special "thank you."

With this list of names in mind, it is hard to forget the many other persons who donated their time and services. Basically there is one lesson which is gained through working together as we did and that is unified effort. Without this we wouldn't have made it. So I say again, this is it!

Sincerely yours,
